

Getting to Alaska Airlines Aviation Day SFO 2026 (via Public Transit – Bart and Walk)

Alaska Airlines is hosting its 3rd annual Aviation Day at San Francisco International Airport (SFO) on June 6, 2026. There are numerous methods to get to SFO such as driving and parking, ride share, or public transit such as bus, Caltrain, or BART. The best method will depend on where in the Bay Area your journey begins and access to public transit. This guide will describe how to get to the Aviation Day location via BART and walking to the event site which is “Plot 12” on the west end of the airfield.

Note: this event does not take place at any of the passenger terminals at SFO, though there is a method to reach Plot 12 from the passenger terminals via the SFO Airtrain.

1. Take BART to San Francisco International Airport

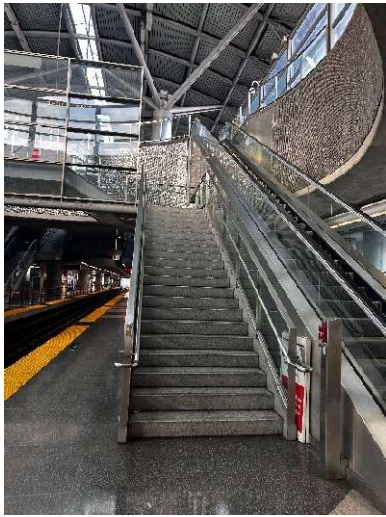

Remember, the Red and Yellow lines both stop at SFO. Depending on where your journey begins you may need to transfer to the Red or Yellow line and exit at the San Francisco International Airport station. If coming from the south peninsula or San Jose, consider taking Caltrain to Millbrae and transferring to the BART red line from there.

2. Transfer to the SFO Airtrain Blue Line towards Rental Car Center

Exit the BART platform by taking the escalator or stairs up towards Garage G. The escalator and stairs are near the middle of the station and flanked by a shiny metal art display to know you're going in the correct direction!

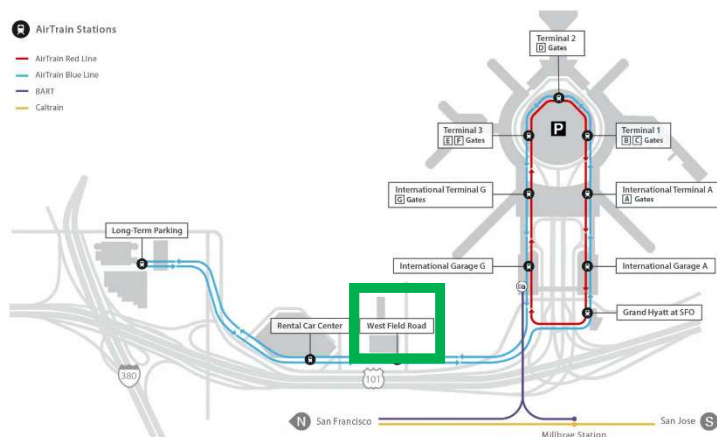

When exiting the fare gates, continue forward towards the SFO Airtrain Blue Line to the Rental Car Center.

The stairs/escalator and BART fare gates to exit the station to the SFO Airtrain. You'll then get on the Airtrain Blue line towards the Rental Car Center and Long Term Parking.

3. Exit SFO Airtrain Blue Line at West Field Road Station

Ride the Airtrain one stop to the West Field Road station and exit the train.

4. Travel Northbound on West Field Road to Plot 12

Exit the Airtrain station by taking the escalator or stairs down. The walkway exits just north of the intersection of West Field Road and N McDonnell Road (US-101 parallels N McDonnell Rd). Walk northbound on West Field

Road away from the intersection and away from US-101, following the signs to Alaska Airlines Aviation Day. The walk is approximately 0.5 miles, is flat, on a sidewalk, and takes approximately 10 minutes.

5. Return to BART in reverse direction.

At the end of the event, return to the Garage G/BART station by backtracking the same route to the Blue line at West Field Rd station. The only difference is that you'll have to cross the McDonnell Rd to one of two stairways/escalators up to the platform. You can ride the SFO AirTrain Blue line all the way around the terminals to Garage G/BART, or have the option to transfer to the Red line at the Grand Hyatt at SFO station.

This image shows the escalator up to the return station. This requires crossing both West Field Rd and McDonnell Rd. To the right of this image across McDonnell Rd is a stairway only up to the platform.
